but i would say it is more than a biological imperative - hormones affect the brain and our moods the other members of the research team are dr